ADMISSION CONDITIONS

A Bachelor of Arts with at least 60 credits in the given discipline, or an equivalent degree. Additional courses may be required depending on prior studies.

Master's Programme

MASTER ÈS LETTRES, DISCIPLINE GERMAN LANGUAGE, LITERATURE AND CIVILISATION

The German Department offers a comprehensive programme covering modern literature, medieval literature and linguistics. Students will study literature from the 8th century up to the 21st century, with a focus on textual analysis within historical, social and cultural contexts and on manuscripts and images. In linguistics courses, students will take a descriptive approach that takes account of historical, regional, sociolinguistic and stylistic diversity. As most students are non-native German speakers, there is a particular focus on studying German as a foreign language, with targeted language classes.

MOBILITY

Master's students are encouraged to go on exchange, if possible for a single semester, given the duration of the programme. Students may go on exchange regardless of how many credits they have completed at the Faculty. Under regulations, students may earn no more than 24 credits (2 modules) while on exchange. The dissertation cannot be substituted.
